1

The Titus 2:4 mandate is CVEF Christian mentoring programme. As the name implies, it is an initiative established in obedience to the scripture in Titus 2:4, which commands "...the older women to teach the younger". It is a dynamic, intentional and voluntary relationship of trust that seeks to identify and promote the work of God's spirit in the lives of people, assisting them to access God's resources for their growth and strength in spirituality, character, thinking and service. The CVEF mentoring programme offers younger women from 20 years onwards the opportunity to be mentored by older Christian women from different works of life, denominations and professions. These women share the knowledge and skills they have already obtained, are working to obtain and have right at their fingertips, in addition to living a holy life. They share their personal experiences, successes and pitfalls, thus empowering others to fulfil their purpose in life and consequently their destinies. It is about commitment, personal growth and development. For churches and ministries, the Titus 2:4 mandate also offers a powerful, effective training curriculum in Christian Mentoring. We conduct seminars, workshops, retreats and church consultations for those who wish to grow a robust mentoring ministry.

The 'Well-Woman' is the health initiative of CVEF. It seeks to create awareness, educate and empower women and girl children on health issues, providing intervention where necessary. This is done through the publication of the 'Well-Woman' Magazine - a quarterly full colour magazine that focuses on matters relating to the physical, spiritual and emotional well-being of women and girl children, distributed freely to women from all works of life. As part of our commitment to promoting women's health and wellbeing under the Well-woman initiative, CVEF also organises an annual health seminar, employing the services of leading medical experts in related fields to educate women and provide opportunities for free consultation and intervention as much as possible.

3

The Shepherd's Helpmeet is an Interdenominational Platform for Pastors' wives to be Supported, Encouraged and Empowered for the peculiar work of ministry that they engage in, and fulfil their lives purpose. It will provide opportunities for established Pastors' wives to encourage and support one another, share good practice, peer mentor and also mentor younger and emerging Pastors' wives, supported with appropriate leadership teachings all in a non-threatening & non-doctrinal environment.

4

The word Yeshivah, which in Jewish language literally means "sitting", is applied to the activity of a learning session, particularly for young people. The CVEF Yeshivah is an academy aimed at developing young people for life, encouraging them to live Christo-centric lives, and leadership; maximising their potentials and fulfilling their purpose. This is achieved through teachings, empowerment, role-modelling and formal mentoring. Programmes are run during school vacation periods.

5

The 'One Flesh' ministry of CVEF is where we offer training and support to emotionally healthy couples who desire to make a difference and help other couples grow stronger and weather the storms in their marriage. In addition, the 'One Flesh' ministry offers a powerful, effective marriage mentoring training curriculum and support for churches to build a thriving, healthy marriage mentoring ministry through seminars, workshops, retreats and church consultations.
